

Dollars

This is one dollar (loonie). It is worth 100 cents.	 $1 or $1.00	This is a five-dollar bill. It is worth 500 cents.	 $5 or $5.00
This is two dollars (toonie). It is worth 200 cents.	 $2 or $2.00	The ten-dollar bill equals 1,000 cents.	 $10 or $10.00
Use the “$” symbol in front of dollar amounts. The whole dollars and the cents are separated by a decimal point.	 = $1.20 (one dollar and 20 cents)	 = $7.05 (seven dollars and five cents)

1. How much money? Write the amount.

 a. $ _____	 b. $ _____
 c. $ _____	 d. $ _____
 e. $ _____	 f. $ _____